

Teachers Resource Pack

AUTUMN / WINTER 2016

©Quentin Blake The Witches 1983

CREATIVE --- --- ENGAGEMENT

Opportunities for Primary Schools,
Secondary Schools & Colleges

---

---

A Curve and Rose Theatre Kingston co-production in association with West Yorkshire Playhouse

ROALD DAHL'S

THE WITCHES

Contents

- 3 About The Witches
- 4 Roald Dahl Timeline
- 6 Roald Dahl's Revolting Words
- 9 Mixed up Witches
- 10 Making a Masterplan
- 11 Spotting a Witch
- 12 Dressing a Witch
- 13 Wanted Witches!

A REAL WITCH COULD
SMELL YOU ACROSS
THE STREET... TO A
WITCH, YOU WOULD
SMELL LIKE FRESH
DOG DROPPINGS!

About the Show

By Roald Dahl

Adapted by David Wood

This Christmas, Roald Dahl's scariest book is brought to life in a tremendously terrifying treat for the whole family.

Witches absolutely detest children. They find them revolting and are planning to wipe them out like weasels! They want to squish them and squiggle them and make them disappear. But one brave young boy and his grandmother have a plan to get rid of the witches for good... if only they can avoid being turned into mice.

Directed by Nikolai Foster (Annie, White Christmas), The Witches features a hugely talented cast of actor-musicians and mind boggling illusions that will leave you flabbergasted!

Sarah Ingram as Grand High Witch. Photography by Catherine Ashmore.
Photography from 2014 production at Curve, Leicester

Roald Dahl Timeline

1924

Roald Dahl is sent to boarding school (he later wrote about his experiences there in his book Boy: Tales of Childhood published 1984).

1924

8 year old Roald Dahl is caned at school for putting a dead mouse in a jar of gobstoppers.

1916

Roald Dahl was born in in Wales.

1934

Roald Dahl leaves school (he later wrote about his adventures into adulthood in his book Going Solo published 1986).

1967

Roald Dahl writes the screenplay for the James Bond film You Only Live Twice.

1946

Roald Dahl's first short story is published.

1939

Roald Dahl joins the Royal Air Force fighting in World War II. He rose to the rank of Squadron Leader, and considered a 'flying ace'.

1964

Charlie and the Chocolate Factory is published.

1953

Roald Dahl marries actress Patricia Neal.

1961

Roald Dahl's first classic children's novel James and the Giant Peach is published.

Roald Dahl and Illustrator Quentin Blake collaborate for the first time on the publication of The Enormous Crocodile.

Publication of The BFG and Revolting Rhymes.

The film version of Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory starring Gene Wilder is released.

Roald Dahl's The Witches is published. Roald dedicated the book to his wife Liccy who he married in the same year! It is claimed that the grandmother in The Witches was based on (loosely!) Roald's own mother.

Roald Dahl co-writes the screenplay for Chitty Chitty Bang Bang with director Ken Hughes.

Publication of Boy (the stories of Roald Dahl's childhood).

Publication of Going Solo (Roald Dahl's autobiographical retelling of his young adulthood).

One of Dahl's last stories Matilda is published.

The Witches is turned into a major motion picture starring Angelica Huston, but Roald Dahl himself regarded the film as "utterly appalling", and hated the altered ending!

Roald Dahl dies aged 74.

Roald Dahl's Revolting Words

In his writing Roald Dahl created his very own language called 'Gobblefunk'. When Dahl couldn't find a word for exactly what he was trying to describe he would make one up. Many of these are now featured in the Oxford English Dictionary.

We can use this method as a way of exploring language constructs with students, and as stimuli for creative writing.

Activity 1: Dahl's Definitions

Using the list of Dahl's Gobblefunk words, and the accompanying worksheet ask students to work in pairs to try and decipher the meanings for the words and present these back. They can then compare their choices to Dahl's and discuss what made them choose the definitions they came up with.

Roald Dahl's Revolting Words

Gobblefunk

Roald Dahl language

Babblement

A nice gossip conversation

Chatbag

Someone who talks too much

Glubbage

Rubbish

Srumdiddlyumptious

Delicious or lovely

Rotsome

When something is off or rotting

Bogglebox

A school for young boys

Frothbungling

Stupid

Gloriumptious

Gloriously wonderful

Jumpsquiffing

Something absolutely huge

Muggled

To be a bit confused

Quogwinkle

An alien from outerspace

Lixivate

Being squashed and turned into liquid at the same time

Snozzcumber

The BFG eats these - a vegetable

Trogglehumper

A nightmare

Swatchscollop

Disgusting food

Kiddles

Children

Jumbly

Mixed up

Revolting Words Worksheet

Fill in the table below, using the middle column to write your own definition for Dahl's Revolting Words, and the right column with Dahl's actual definition.

The first one has been completed for you as an example.

Word	Your Definition	Dahl's Definition
Eg. Gobblefunk	Gibberish	Roald Dahl's made up language
Babblement
Chatbag
Glubbage
Srumdiddlyumptious
Rotsome
Bogglebox
Frothbungling
Gloriumptious
Jumpsquiffing
Muggled
Quogwinkle
Lixivate
Snozzcumber
Trogglehumper
Swatchscollop
Kiddles
Jumbly

Activity 2: Scrumdiddlyumptious Sentences

Now we have discussed Dahl's Gobblefunk words, and his definitions for these, ask students to construct a sentence for each of the words in the list.

Activity 3: Generating Gobblefunk

Ask students to create their own Gobblefunk words to describe something, and write this in the style of a dictionary definition. We can use this as an opportunity to look at the format in which definitions are presented in a dictionary, and how we can most effectively use a dictionary when writing and learning new vocabulary.

Fox Jackson-Keen as Boy. Photography by Catherine Ashmore. Photography from 2014 production at Curve, Leicester

Mixed up Witches Narrative Activity

The story of Roald Dahl's The Witches has been simplified into 10 points.

Cut these out separately and ask students to work out which order they should go in.

Discuss your choices as a whole class, why have they chosen to put the story in this order.

The extracts are listed in the correct order for your reference.

Once upon a time there was a young boy, who lived with his Grandma in Norway. She told him all about Witches, and how to spot them.

One day the boy and his Grandma went to stay in a hotel by the seaside. The boy would wander around the hotel playing with his pet mice.

One day the boy wandered into a big room where the RSPCC (Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children) were due to have a big meeting.

When the RSPCC meeting started, the little boy hid behind a screen, and listened. He found out that the women meeting were actually Witches, who were planning to turn all the children of England into mice!

The Witches discover the boy hiding behind the screen, and decide to use their potion to transform him into a mouse!

In his mouse form, the little boy escapes, and rushes to tell his Grandma what has happened.

Together, the boy (as a mouse) and his Grandma, make a plan to trick the Witches, and use their own potion against them.

The boy (as a mouse) steals a vial of the potion, and pours it in to the Witches' soup at dinner time. They begin to transform into mice, right there in the dining room.

The boy (as a mouse) and his Grandma leave the hotel, and return home to Norway.

When safely back at home, the boy and his Grandma start to plot ways of ridding the whole world of Witches once and for all.

Making a Masterplan

Narrative Activity 2

The little boy and his Grandma come up with lots of plans to rid the world of Witches once and for all inspired by the Formula 86: Delayed-Action Mouse Making Potion which the Witches create.

Ask students to use the following points to generate a potion and masterplan of their own. They will need to use creative writing ideas, and non-fiction text types to complete this task.

Points to include:

- A title for their potion
- A description of how their potion will work
- An ingredients list
- How will this potion be administered to the Witches?

Example:

Title: The fast-action fur growing potion

How does it work?

Witches who take this potion, instantly grow a full body of fluffy green fur, restricting their eye-sight and sense of smell- and thus making them less dangerous. It also makes them easily identifiable to children who can run away whenever they see a Witch covered in green fur.

Ingredients

1 cup of sugar
10oz of teddy bear stuffing
2kg of baby spit
1kg of drawing pins (ground down into dust)
1 x copy of Roald Dahl's 'The Witches' shredded and stirred in Boil for 1 hour

How to administer the potion

The potion must be carefully administered to the top of a Witch's head. This must be done when they are not wearing their wigs. Therefore it should be given to wig makers, hat-shops and hairdressers in the first instance to ensure that it is applied directly.

Spotting a Witch

To spot a Witch (according to Mr Dahl) first we have to understand and find out as much about them as we can!

Drama Activity

Using the descriptions below, ask students to slowly transform themselves into witches. Read each bullet point aloud, and ask students to layer on the characteristics and become a classroom full of witches.

CLAWS

Witches have claws instead of fingernails - like a cat.

GLOVES

They always wear gloves – mime putting on your gloves.

HAIR

They'll be as bald as a boiled egg - now not everyone who is bald is a witch mind - don't mistake me! But they have very expensive wigs - pop your wig on and style it. Lovely!

NOSE

Witches have very large noses and a very keen sense of smell. Imagine your nose is growing. Smell different things – flowers – lovely! Chocolate – lovely! Children- eeeurgh!

EYES

Their eyes change colour – try changing your eyes by opening them very wide, and squeezing them shut tight.

TOES

They don't have any toes. Just square feet. Tuck your toes away, how hard is it to walk without any toes?

SPIT

They have BLUE spit. Now no actual spitting please! Chew a big imaginary toffee, it gets bigger and bigger and bigger, and now poke your tongue out! And to someone else! Ooh I think they are going blue you know! And they use it to write with, dip your imaginary pen on your inky tongue. Write a nice little postcard- but keep your tongue stuck out! REPEAT after me...?

e.g. "Dear Mum,

I have been spotting witches, and learning how they behave. They look very different when disguised, so be wary! Lots of Love from Me!"

Witches WANTED Poster Activity

Use the poster template to draw two versions of a 'Wanted' Witch (using the character descriptions from the previous exercise)

a) A Witch in disguise

b) A Witch without her disguise

WEST YORKSHIRE
PLAYHOUSE

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND

For more information

wyp.org.uk 0113 213 7700